Competition Format and Rules

Formato y reglas de la competencia / Format et règles de compétition

As of SAT 17 SEP 2018

Youth Olympic Competition Format

The Summer Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018 programme comprises Singles, for men and women, and Relay Team competitions.

All singles players must enter in the Relay Team event. There are 32 players in the Singles competitions and eight teams in the Relay Team competition.

Teams in the Relay Team event are composed of eight players, four of each gender. Players can be from different NOCs.

The Singles and Relay Team events will be played in two stages - the group play stage and the knock-out stage.

Singles

Group play stage

Group allocation for the group play stage will be determined by a draw.

The number of seeds will correspond to the number of groups. The seeded players will be placed at the top of each group.

The remaining players will be drawn into the groups, one by one, until all players are placed in the draw.

The players will play in groups (eight groups of four players each), in which all players in the group play each other. A final ranking order for each group will be calculated. Ranking will be established by the number of matches won.

The top ranked player from each group of the group play stage will qualify to the quarterfinals.

If two players have won the same number of matches, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players have won the same number of matches, ranking will be established by the difference between total games won and total games lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If two players remain tied, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players have won the same number of matches and are equal in the difference between total games won and total games lost, ranking will be established by the difference between total points won and total points lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If two players remain tied, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players are still equal, then ranking will be established by drawing lots.

Knock-out stage

This stage consists of head-to-head matches from which the winner advances to the next round. The only time a losing player will contest another match is when the losing semi-finalists meet in the bronze medal match.

Relay Team

Group play stage

Group allocation for the group play stage will be determined by a draw.

The seeded teams will be placed at the top of each group.

The remaining teams will be distributed into the groups by a draw.

The teams will play in groups in which all teams in the group play each other. Each tie between two teams consists of ten matches: Two Men's Singles, two Women's Singles, two Men's Doubles, two Women's Doubles and two Mixed Doubles. The team reaching 110 points first will win the tie.

A final ranking order for each group will be calculated. Ranking will be established by the number of ties won.

All teams will qualify to the knock-out stage.

If two teams have won the same number of ties, the winner of the tie between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more teams have won the same number of ties, ranking will be established by the difference between total ties won and total tie lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If this still leaves two teams equal, the winner of the tie between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more teams have won the same number of ties and are equal in the difference between total ties won and total ties lost, ranking will be established by the difference between total points won and total points lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If two teams remain tied, the winner of the tie between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more teams remain tied, then ranking will be established by drawing lots.

Knock-out stage

This stage consists of head-to-head ties from which the winning team advances to the next round. The only time a losing team will contest another tie is when the losing semi-finalists meet in the bronze medal tie.

Differences between the BWF World Junior Championships and the Summer Youth Olympic Games

There are no differences in the general competition regulations and laws of Badminton, however the format is different. The BWF World Junior Championships is a straight knockout competition whereas the Youth Olympic Games has a round robin format in pools leading to a knockout competition. Also, there is no Relay Team competition at the BWF World Junior Championships.

The BWF World Junior Championships field contains more competitors due to the different quotas for member association's participation.

Changes since the Summer Youth Olympic Games Nanjing 2014

The Relay Team event has been included in the Badminton programme for the Summer Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018 and the Mixed Team event has been removed.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Toss

Before the play, a toss will be conducted and the side winning the toss will choose to serve or receive first, or start play at one end of the court or the other.

Scoring system

All matches, Singles and Relay Team

A match will consist of the best of three games. A game will be won by the side which first scores 21 points. A point is awarded to the winner of each rally, which is an unbroken sequence of strokes from the service until a player fails to make a valid return. The winner of the point becomes the next server. If the score becomes 20 all, the side which gains a two points lead first, will win that game. If the score becomes 29 all, the side scoring the 30th point will win that game. The side winning a game will serve first in the next game.

All ties, Relay Team

A tie will consist of ten matches: Two Men's Singles, two Women's Singles, two Men's Doubles, two Women's Doubles and two Mixed Doubles.

The winner of the team tie will be the team reaching 110 points first. Scores will be carried forward from each match to the next, with the losing player/pair of each match being awarded a minimum number of points to carry forward (5 points per match), even if the team has not actually achieved that number of points.

The first match will play one game to 11 points (change ends at 6 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 5 points, or the actual number of points scored, whichever is greater.

The second match will start with the score of the first match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 22 points (change ends at 17 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 10 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The third match will start with the score of the second match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 33 points (change ends at 28 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 15 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The fourth match will start with the score of the third match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 44 points (change ends at 39 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 20 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The fifth match will start with the score of the fourth match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 55 points (change ends at 50 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 25 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The sixth match will start with the score of the fifth match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 66 points (change ends at 61 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 30 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The seventh match will start with the score of the sixth match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 77 points (change ends at 72 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 30 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The eighth match will start with the score of the seventh match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 88 points (change ends at 83 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 35 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The ninth match will start with the score of the eighth match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 99 points (change ends at 94 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 40 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

The tenth and final match will start with the score of the ninth match and continue until one of the players/pairs reaches 110 points, to win the tie (change ends at 105 points). The losing player/pair will be awarded a minimum of 45 points, or the actual number of points reached, whichever is greater.

Penalties / Disqualification Rules

A coloured penalty card system (yellow, red and black) is used to act as a visual aid when an umpire issues a warning for misconduct or other misdemeanour.

Disqualifications in Badminton are very rare, with the most common cause being a player or team reporting late for a match/tie. Players can also be disqualified for returning late after the two-minute break between games, or for serious or persistent misconduct, but this is equally rare.

During the match an umpire can issue a warning (and a yellow card) if a player fails to respect the laws of Badminton or the players' code of conduct.

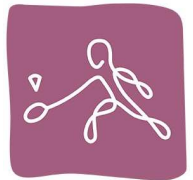

Faults

If the player has already been warned for misconduct, or when the offence is flagrant, the umpire can call a fault and issue a red card.

If the player is guilty of persistent or flagrant acts of misconduct, the Umpire will fault the offending side, and report the offending side immediately to the Referee. If the Referee decides that a disqualification is necessary, he hands a black card to the Umpire to issue to the offending side, signalling their disqualification from the match.

Protests

In Badminton the result is final once the player leaves the court. Any decision taken by the Referee is final.
